Sen. Bishop to read to local pupils during Reading Month

Lansing — Throughout the month of March, state Sen. Mike Bishop, R-Rochester, will visit six local schools to stress to parents and pupils the importance of reading.

March has been nationally designated as Reading Month,

“By highlighting the importance of reading, we can successfully put our children on the track to learning and literacy,” Bishop said. “I encourage all parents and teachers to reinforce this fundamental principle in their homes and classrooms.”

Bishop’s visits, which start March 8, include schools across his district:

- March 8, 10 a.m., Auburn Hills Elementary School, 2900 Waukegan Road, Auburn Hills.
- March 12, 10 a.m., Brewster Elementary School, 1535 Brewster Road, Rochester.
- March 15, 8:45 a.m., Paint Creek Elementary School, 2800 Indianwood Road, Lake Orion.
- March 19, 10 a.m., Clear Lake Elementary School, 2085 W. Drahner Road, Oxford.
- March 26, 10 a.m., St. John Lutheran School, 1101 W. University Drive, Rochester.
- March 29, 8:30 a.m., Hugger Elementary School, 5050 Sheldon Road, Rochester.
